

Emma Cook

Thanks to a recent FACTOR grant, Indie pop songstress Emma Cook has finished recording her fourth album with producer Dean Drouillard (Royal Wood), the first single of which got her into the second round of the CBC Searchlight competition in 2017 and an official showcase at Toronto's Indie Week. Chosen to be part of the Export Development Program at this year's FMO Conference, Emma will be spending the next year touring and promoting her early 2018 release Living Proof.
